Photoshop Elements 8 Actions

gmitchel850 says:

I've started to port over Photoshop actions to Photoshop Elements 8.

The first is the TLR B&W Toning for Photoshop Elements. I also added a tip for running actions from PSE 8.

www.thelightsright.com/UsingPhotoshopActionsInPhotoshopEI...

More actions are on their way for PSE 8

Enjoy!

Cheers,

Mitch

Hi Mitch,

Thank you for your post. We have seen each other around in other groups and sites on the internet. I appreciate your willingness to help the members here too. I do however have a bit of a problem with your "Donate" button and the advertisement on your site that you link to.

I have read over the year or so that you have been on flickr, your reasons for not have photos in your stream. That is your business of course. However, being a founding member of this group, I will not allow for it to be any sort of jeopardy.

Honestly, your stream and posts makes you like your only concern is to bring traffic to your site. You must read the TOS at flickr...twice if necessary. Either, remove your donate button, and every single for sale spot on your site.

I have read all of the TOS on flickr. I follow them to the letter. I and other members have built this group from nothing, and nothing will ever jeopardize it. Your a smart person, you see alot of the same people here that you see in other groups. Their rules may be different, as they may not have spent the time in establishing a strong group. I dunno.

Your post makes me very, very nervous. You should know that. Your vacant stream makes me more nervous. You should know that too. flickr is a photo sharing site. Again I appreciate your willingness to help the members here. Please set my mind at ease thanks,

doug cook

This is an example of how we do things here:
www.flickr.com/groups/pse/discuss/72157622682860646/

Long intro....engaging.....informative.....maybe a bit of fun too.....examples.....fun links.....photos.....more examples.....communication.....not duplicated in other groups anywhere.....informative.....photos.....No Ads, anywhere.

Helpful too

...and that was just added yesterday. Take the time to look through our fun group, you'll see how we do things. Yes, there are some instances of linking....but when it is proprietary link.....Not an ad or donate, or any other commercial thing can be found. That is how we do it here.

Oh, be reasonable.

Did you spend nearly $2000 to dedicate a server last October to giving away tools, tutorials, and videos.. Do you offer to pay $125 per month just for internet access and another $50 for GoToMeeting just to freely help everyone!

My site is free of commercial advertising. It has one discreet button to allow people to donate.

That button and the eBook sales ALMOST allow the site to be self-financing. ALMOST

I bring people to my site so they can find helpful resources. They can come, download something, and leave. They can go from here to my site, download this action, and come back right here. How does that harm this group in any way!

You're group is now one I will flee and I will post a review that it is administered by unreasonable administrators who clearly cannot distinguish between a commercial site and one that is completely non-commercial and relies on occasional donations to make dozens of reviewsd, tools, tutorials, and videos freely available.

There are other more reasonable PSE groups here on Flickr

Mitch

PS. Why do a few people on Flickr! obsess over who does or does not post photos on Flickr! Can't you get over that silly point? There ought to be more than one way for people to make a positive contribution here. Like offering free reviews, tools, tutotirals, and videos.

um, yes....and much more than what you spent....cause i am bigger thanyou!!!

. Now your insulting, and verifying my concern. get your revenue somewhere else

I tell ya what. if you spent 2 seconds lookin through our well developed group, you would see were have a $20,000.00 reward being offered thats right we give we don't take.

you have exactly 2 hours to remove your donate button and for sale ads, if not your post will be removed.

i have spent waaaaaay more than you and i don't ask for nuttin. Don't insult me again either. that is rude, really it is.

I just joined this group to learn more about PSE. However, given the attitude of gwinnie2006 I don't think I want to be part of it.

I have had a look at gmitchel850's offerings and they seem to be excellent, professional and useable tools. I think gwinnie2006's threats are petty and childish.

Who would you rather be associated with? an image editing professional like gmitchel850 or a childish idiot like gwinnie2006. Let's look at the evidence:

"i am bigger than you"

"get your revenue somewhere else"

"careful what you post on the internet mitch....really, be careful "

"tickity tock, the mousey ran up the clock....."

Honestly, gwinnie, are you 6 years old? Were you bullied at school??
